

COLONEL Michael Moon
Director, Electrical Sector Development
Gulf Region Division
Army Corps of Engineers

Colonel Moon is in his 24th year of service to the US Army in a variety of units and positions. He has served in tactical units from platoon to division level in positions ranging from Platoon Leader to Battalion Commander. He has also served in various staff positions from battalion to combatant command level.

Significant engineer positions include; Battalion Commander of the 37th Engineer Battalion, Infrastructure Engineer for the U.S. European Command, and Director of Infrastructure Rehabilitation at the U.S. Army Peacekeeping and Stability Operations Institute.

Major operational deployments include; New Horizons in Nicaragua in 2002, and Iraqi Freedom 2003.